

2. Peeking Contour: A peeking contour is like a blind contour, except that you can peek at your drawing. You will still spend most of your time looking at the flower you are drawing. You will still follow along the edges with your eyes, slowly drawing each bump and wrinkle.

But you will also be able to look back at your paper. You will look at your flower for ten seconds and then back at your paper for one second. To help you to do that, your teacher is going to count for you.

Look at the paper for 1 second.

Look at the flowers for 10 seconds.
